Subject: The latest big lie

Dear MoveOn member,

Andrew Breitbart “the right-wing rumor-monger who has been caught repeatedly blatantly lying about Democrats and progressive organizations” has picked his latest target: Planned Parenthood, the nation’s largest provider of women’s health services.

And once again, the media is falling for it—no questions asked.

Breitbart spreads smears that are frequently untrue and at times illegal. He’s the guy who was behind the smears against the organization ACORN, he’s connected to the illegal wiretapping of Democratic Senator Mary Landrieu’s office, and he pushed out the doctored video of USDA employee Shirley Sherrod. Sherrod was fired, and when the original unedited video showed the exact opposite of what Breitbart had said, she received apologies from everyone including the President and major networks.

Enough is enough. It’s time for the media to do their job. NPR - yes, that NPR - just ran an article on their website reporting on Breitbart’s lies as if they were real news.

Please call NPR immediately and tell them "not to help Breitbart do to Planned Parenthood what he did to Shirley Sherrod." Planned Parenthood provides vital services to millions of American women and the media needs to independently investigate claims, not just repeat them. Tell NPR to take down the article unless they update it to include this source’s history of lying, doctoring video and using illegal means to obtain information.

Here’s where to call:
