

Listening to NPR with Siri

Below are all of the NPR-friendly commands available for Siri. Keep this near your device for easy reference.

HOMEPOD COMMANDS

“Hey Siri, play the station [station name or call letters].”
or “Hey Siri, play [station name or call letters] radio.”

Stream live from any public radio station by saying the station name or call letters, i.e., “Hey Siri, play WAMU,” or “Hey Siri, play Nashville Public Radio.” To find any NPR member station in the country, check out npr.org/stations.

“Hey Siri, play the news,”
or “Hey Siri, play NPR.”

Hear the latest 3-minute newscast, updated every hour.

“Hey Siri, play [podcast name] podcast.” or “Hey Siri, play the podcast [podcast name].”

Play the latest episode of a specific podcast. Be sure to say “podcast” before or after the show name.

IPHONE COMMANDS USING NPR ONE

“Hey Siri, open NPR One,” or “Hey Siri, play NPR One.”

Hear the latest local and national news, and a flow of thoughtfully curated stories.

“Hey Siri, skip.”

Skip the current story and help inform future stories you get served.

“Hey Siri, pause.”

Pause the current story until you’re ready to resume.

“Hey Siri, resume.”

Pick up right where you left off.